for instance, some states only give physicians access to the systems, which puts the burden of use on the doctor wal-mart is considering a bid, people familiar with matter have said, but the tesco deal has apparently ruled out interest from cre, according to some bankers.