and disease activity? Cameras embedded in the wrists would then determine how to grasp the object. For over 15 years, researchers have...