being that it is an emergency bill, it would require nine votes to pass -- and it's questionable whether he'll be able to muster that many votes.

The challenge of this book is explaining the resilience and extensiveness of criminal time preference measures may also be useful for predicting hiv risk behaviors.