of the five men accused in the shooting, two are awaiting trial, one is reportedly in the custody of Mexican authorities and two remain at large.

I'm not sure if this differs in other states, but it is a law in NC.

Industry watchers have commented that the remarks could also be a reflection of the ongoing IPR lawsuit in the country between the federal government and Swiss drug-maker Novartis.