it is a relatively dangerous drug, with short-term effects like hyperthermia (overheating) due to the combination of dehydration and extreme activity associated with its use