women are often pressed by social pressure or police to stay quiet about sexual assault, experts say, and those who do report cases are often subjected to public ridicule or social stigma.

"because the illegality of drugs keeps the prices high," he says, "there are high salaries to be made in selling them.

Tapo Pharmacy Simi Valley California